

BEST DATA CENTRE PROJECT OF THE YEARWinner: e-Hosting DataFort*

The need for advanced data centre solutions has grown exponentially in recent years, with many organisations turning to hosted service providers, such as the winner of this category to provide world class facilities. E-hosting DataFort took the award for its recently completed data centre project at the International Media Production Zone (IMPZ), which has put great emphasis on green technology and supports high density computing, and that will provide eHDF with considerable additional capacity to meet their customer needs and develop new services.

"I think it is brilliant that we won this award. Our new data centre, that has been constructed is really state of the art, it is probably one of the most technologically driven data centres in the region, and it is really going to help our customers as well."
